

Olympic Games

Ancient Games

1. Winners receive palm branches and olive wreaths. There is only one winner for each event.
2. Women are not allowed to compete in the Games.
3. Males and unmarried women are allowed to spectate at the Games.
4. Athletes don't wear any clothes to compete. They are completely naked.
5. The Games are held in honour of the Greek God, Zeus.

Modern Games

1. Winners receive a gold medal. There is a silver medal for second place and a bronze medal for third place.
2. Male and female competitors from around the world take in part the Games.
3. Billions of people around the world watch the Olympics. They see the Games in person or watch them at home on television or online.
4. There are five coloured rings on the Olympic flag. The rings represent Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe and the Americas.

Both

1. The Olympic Games are held every four years.
2. Running, jumping, discus, javelin and boxing are all Olympic sports.

Neither

1. Chess is an Olympic sport.

