Running, jumping, discus,
javelin and boxing are all Olympic sports.

Winners receive a gold medal.
There is a silver medal for second place and a bronze medal for third place.

Male and female competitors
from around the world take part in the Games.

Billions of people around the world watch the Olympics.
They see the Games in person or watch them at home on television or online.

Males and unmarried women
are allowed to spectate at the Games.

The Olympic Games are held every four years.

There are five coloured rings
on the Olympic flag. The rings represent Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe and the Americas.

The Games are held in honour
of the Greek God, Zeus.

Winners receive palm branches and olive wreaths. There is only one winner for each event.

Athletes don't wear any clothes to compete. They are completely naked.

Women are not allowed to compete in the Games.

Chess is an Olympic sport.
